DEFINITIONS

(NAICS) Code (North American Industrial Classification System): The Small Business Administration (SBA) has amended its size regulations by establishing a new table of small business size standards for industries, as the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS). The new size standards became effective beginning with Fiscal Year 2001, which began October 1, 2000. The SBA has determined that (NAICS) is a better description of industries in the U.S. economy than the Standard Industrial Classification system (SIC). Effective October 1, 2000 please list your (NAICS) code in place of the old (SIC) code.

TO FIND YOUR (NAICS) CODE LOG ONTO www.naics.com. Click the button on the top left of the screen that reads: NAICS to SIC, SIC to NAICS. From Table (2), select the category that best describes your business. From the screen that opens (1987 SCI codes matched to 1997 NAICS codes, Major Group 2digits), again narrow your search by selecting the category that best describes your type of business. Your selection will open an SIC/NAICS conversion chart. Identify your type of business and the appropriate NAICS code

SMALL BUSINESS: "Small business concern means a concern, including its affiliates, that is Independently owned and operated, not dominant in the field of operation in which it is bidding. Please refer to the Table of Small Business Size Standards for clarification on factors used to determine "size" for all industries. Summary is attached for general information. (www.sba.gov/size/sizetable2002.html)

SMALL DISADVANTAGED BUSINESS: A small business concern that is at least 51 percent owned by one or more individuals who are both socially and economically disadvantaged. This can include a publicly owned business that has at least 51 percent of its stock unconditionally owned by one or more socially and economically disadvantaged individuals and whose management and daily business is controlled by one or more such individuals. Participants in the 8(a) Business Development Program through the SBA are certified as "SDB" firms. SDB's must be certified through the SBA. Contact your local Small Business Administration Office for detailed information.

HUBZone: A small business meets all of the following criteria to qualify for the Hubzone program:

- it must be located in a "historically underutilized business zone,"
 - it must be owned and controlled by one or more U.S. Citizens, and
 - at least 35% of its employees must reside in a HUB Zone.
- Located in one or more of the following:
- a qualified census tract (as defined in section 42(d)(5)(C)(i)(I) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986);
 - a qualified "non-metropolitan county" (as defined in section 143(k)(2)(B) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986) with a median household income of less than 80 percent of the State median household income or with an unemployment rate of not less than 140 percent of the statewide average, based on U.S. Department of Labor recent data; or
 - lands within the boundaries of federally recognized Indian reservations.

HubZone's must be certified annually through the SBA.

Contact your local Small Business Administration Office for detailed information.

Summary of Small Business Size Standards

A Small Business is one that

- is organized for profit;
- has a place of business in the United States;
- makes a significant contribution to the U.S. economy by paying taxes or using American products, materials or labor; and,
- does not exceed the numerical size standard for its industry.

The business may be a sole proprietorship, partnership, corporation, or any other legal form.

There is an SBA small business size standard for every private sector industry in the U.S. Economy. SBA uses the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) to identify the industries.

Size Standards (usually stated in number of employees or average annual receipts) represent the largest size that a business (including its subsidiaries and affiliates) may be to remain classified as a small business for SBA's programs and for Federal contracting programs.

SBA has several general Size Standards. A business in one of the following industry groups is small if it is not greater than the size standard indicated.
